Says "Teddy" Must Apologize.

Dr. William J. Long, of Stanford, Conn., has made public a letter sent by him to President Roosevelt. The letter says in part:

"The issue between you and me is no longer one of animals but of men. It is not chiefly a matter of national hostility of truth and personal honor. In a recent magazine article you deliberately attacked me as well as my book. You have used the enormous influence of your position to discredit me as a man, to injure my reputation, and incidentally to make a poor man even poorer by destroying, if possible, the sale and influence of his works."

"In my books I have given the result of long years of watching animals in the wilderness, with no other object than to study their habits and as far as man can, to understand the mystery of their dumb life."

"In every preface I have stated, and I now repeat the statement, that every incident I have recorded from my own observation is true as far as an honest man can see and understand the truth. In your recent attack this is what you chiefly deny. I have spoken the truth and you accuse me of deliberate falsehood and misrepresentation."

"As President of the United States you have gone out of your way publicly to injure the private citizen who was attending strictly to his own business, and a man whose ideals of truth and honor are quite as high as your own. This is the whole issue between us. I meet it squarely and so must you. If I have spoken falsely; if in book or work of mine, I have intentionally deceived any child or man regarding animal life, I promise publicly to retract every such word and never to write another animal book."

"On the other hand, if I show to any disinterested person that you have accused me falsely, you must publicly withdraw your accusation and apologize. As a man and as President no other honorable course is open to you. You base your recent charges chiefly on the matter of a big white wolf killing a young caribou by a bite in the chest, described by me in 'Northern Trails.'"

Queer Facts.

At Sharpsburg, while tearing down an old brick house in the Spencer neighborhood, workmen found a brick with two pig's feet imbedded in it. The house was built a hundred years ago. At Lexington, while tearing down the foundation of the Navarre Club building in that city, Henry Jackson, a laborer, released a live toad that is believed to have been entombed in the masonry for twenty years.

The Right Plan.

A farmer in Illinois says he has adopted a plan of advertising in his home paper which has saved much valuable time and brought handsome returns to the money invested. He says: "When I am ready to sell my stuff I insert a little advertisement in the local paper telling what I have to sell, and, if live stock, how many head of each and when they will be ready to ship, and the result has been the buyers are right after me, either personally or by mail, and naturally I always get the highest market price. If I want to buy a cow, a steer, a horse, or a dozen of each, I insert a little advertisement that costs maybe 30 or 40 cents, and instead of traveling over the country inquiring of my neighbors who have this or that for sale, the home news does it for me at less expense and those who have what I want manage to let me know it some way."

Blacksmithing And Wood Work.

The people of Bourbon are invited to give the undersigned a call when in need of first-class blacksmithing, horse-shoeing and woodwork of all kinds. M. H. O'NEIL, Hughes Old Stand. 28-2t

Stole the Wrong Animals.

In the Fayette county Circuit Court a white man was tried for stealing thirty cattle. He was convicted and sent to the penitentiary for one year. A negro boy, who heard the testimony in this trial and the verdict, was then tried for stealing a hog. The jury gave him three years in the penitentiary. Asked if he had any remarks to make, he replied: "Wisht I'd er stole them cattle."

Cleanliness.

Use a gas range and enjoy the hours you have been spending cleaning up after a coal stove. 31-2t

A Dog is Property.

A Jessamine county man has brought suit against the L. & A. Railroad for one hundred dollars for killing his dog. He claims that he pays one dollar tax on his dog, which is the same as he pays on one hundred dollars worth of other property and hence his dog should be valued at that sum.

Cure for Neuralgia.

If you have neuralgia real bad try the nutmeg cure. Just get an ordinary nutmeg and attach a string to it and wear it around your neck. One man who is subject to severe attacks of this severest of all pain says it cures him every time. When neuralgia attacks him he hunts up a nutmeg, and invariably is soon free from the pain. An old negro woman in the South first told him about it. He has asked doctors about it, but they can't explain it.

Be On Time.

The bids will be opened at the Dutch Auction on Saturday, June 8 at 2 o'clock. All persons having put in sealed bids must be present or the next bid will be accepted. If you haven't put in one today is the time. 31-f

Look Out For 'Em.

Hotel keepers, merchants and other advertisers should look out for fake "ad" agents about this time of the year. A number of new "skin" games are being worked in different parts of the State by those fellows who find easy victims among men who have not studied the science of advertising and who are prone to doubt the honesty of a home man, but trust the smooth-tongued fakir.

Stop Paying Rent.

The Bourbon Building and Loan Association will positively begin business Saturday at 7 o'clock p. m. See Roy Clendenin and subscribe for stock. We will loan you money to buy or build a home. Hours of payment 7 to 9 p. m. 31-1f

Can't Hurt a Boy.

The five-year-old son of Kate Karti-nelli fell out of a car window of an Illinois Central limited west bound train running at fifty miles an hour Friday night between Peosta and Epworth, Ia., while his mother was asleep. The child was found walking on the tracks at 5 o'clock the next morning by the train crew of an east bound train. Except for a slight cut on the face the boy was unhurt.

Make A Bid Today.

Bid on the handsome refrigerator at Wheeler's today. The Dutch auction will close at 2 p. m. on June 3 and the person having the highest bid will get the refrigerator. 31-f

There is Ordinance Against It.

The playing of baseball on the public square by whites and negro boys mixed will be stopped when some large window is broken out, which has come near being done on several occasions recently.

A Well-Dressed Man

Is always a pleasant sight and generally gets the "second look." Clothes do not make the man, but they are a pretty good indication of his worth, for they reflect his respect for himself and the men he associates with. No man can over-rate the value of being well dressed. Correctness in one's attire marks the man of thought and many a man owes his success to his appearance.
